St. Louis, Sept. 27.—The mobilization of the Grand Army of the Republic has been successful beyond expectation, and last night it was estimated that 50,000 veterans night it was estimated that 50,000 veterans were in the city. The morning trains to-day and the specials that will arrive before the parade will add 12,000 to 15,000 to this number. These figures do not include the army of friends and relatives who accompany the comrades, and who will remain during the encampment. From the statistics compiled by the registry department of the Encampment Committee it aupears that about 40,000 veterans will be in line to-day.

The line of march is six miles long, and extends through the finest business and resitends through the finest business and residence streets. The veterans will march twelve shreast and ten feet apart, and there is a commander for each platoon. city surpass even the wonderful effect pro-duced last year during the Triennial Con-clave of the Knights Templar. The plan has been somewhat altered, and more varied and beautiful effects have been created. Fourth street for one mile is extremely picturesque. On Broadway and Washington avenu stands the great Lincoln memorial arch. It is thirty-five feet high, constructed of ca-thedral glass, and is surmounted with a por-trait of the dead President. Broadway is also rich in private illuminations, many of them representing a very large sum of

The largest arch in the city is the Grand Army arch on Twelfth street, at the intersection of Olive street. A description of this arch was given in yesterday's dispatches.

The decoration of the court-house is very attractive. The main entrances on Broadway and Fourth street are hidden from view by an immense castellated arch, standing between two towers, and connected with them by galleries. The archway is thirty-one feet wide and thirty-three feet high. Along the facades are displayed the badges of the twenty-three army corps, with a keystone G. A. R. badge. The latter design is twelve feet by four. From the court-house gables streamers and G. A. R. colors fall in graceful folds. The massive dome of the court-house is fashioned into a gigantic houquet of trees interlaced with flags and buntings. From the side galleries the flags of all nations are suspended.

MARCHED IN THE MUD.

St. Louis, Sept 29.—The Grand Army veterans, attired in rusber coats with trousers rolled up, paraded yesterday forenoon in a steady rain. Thousands who were at the encampment had either gone home or refused to march in the mud, but there were men enough to organize divisions, representing in their make-up nearly all the departments.

The order to fall in for parade was received at the various camps and headquarters shortly after 9 o'clock, and the men tumbled out of tent and room and prepared for battle with the elements, armed with rubber coats and umbrellas, trousers rolled up, and mind set to give St. Louis the promised procession, if not in overwhelming number, at least with men enough to make a good showing of their appreciation of the city's efforts to entertain. Shortly before 11 o'clock the column was formed and Grand Marshal Grier ordered the escort of mounted police forward. Then followed the Grand Marshal with his chief of staff, General A. J. Smith, and aides; Logan Post, of St. Louis, mounted, and Springfield, Masa, battalion, special escorts to General Fairchild, the Commander-in-Chief, with ofollowed a few yards behind, wrapped in a rubber coat, smiling and bowing to the crowds who lined the streets. Although closely sheltered from the rain and sight, the crowds on the sidewalks soon found where the old commander was, and cheer upon of the line. They had come with several thousand, and, even with the rain and mud, had a long column of marching men. The ten divisions were composed as follows:

FAIRCHILD'S ADDRESS. The encampment opened in due form in the entertainment hall of the Exposition building at 3 p. m. The Commander-in-Chief, General Fairchild, presided. The annual address of the Commander-in-Chief, which is very long, was then presented. A synopsis is as follows:

tion of pensions should be classed among those which men commonly call partisan.

The Grand Army has been of one mind in considering it but simple justice that the United States should at least grant a pension of not less than $12 a month to all persons who served three months or more in the military or naval service of the United States during the war of the rebellion and who have been honorably discharged and who are now or may hereafter be sufferfering from mental or physical disability—not the result of their own vicious habits—which incapacitates them for the performance of manual labor. "What is asked now in the way of general pensions," General Fairchild said, ual labor. "What is asked now in the way of general pensions," General Fairchild said, "has been asked for years. It is not demanding too much. Many members are of the honest opinion that it is not enough, favoring a broader measure of relief which will embrace all who served a certain length of time and can show an honorable discharge, commonly called the service pension bili," General Fairchild said he was not here to argue against that as an ultimate measure. He wished to do nothing to postpone the coming of the arrival of the day of relief to the suffering.

a preamble and series of resolutions condemning President Cleveland's policy in Grand Army matters in the most severe terms. The preamble recites the President's action in the matter of pensions and then dwells on his "attempt to have the rebellings captured in battle returned to the rebellions Southern States." It also refers to his "general policy of snubbing the Union veterans and honoring ex-Confederates with place and power in the Administration." The resolutions call for a formal condemnation of President Cleveland and his methods in those matters and pledge the Grand Army to the support of any Presidential candidate known to be a sympathizer with the Union and the men that fought therefor. The reading of the resolutions created an upron; and lond protestations were mingled with cheers. Under the rules the resolutions were referred without debate. There is no doubt but that they will be considerably pruned down in committee before being referred back to the convention, the committee having that power. One thing is certain, they will cause a warm discussion when they are returned. The rain having ceased the 100,000 gas jets along Fourth and Fifth streets and Washington avenue were a blaze of light last night. Sr. Louis, Sept. 30.—The fiery anti-Cleve-land resolutions presented by Past Com-mander-in-Chief Vandervoort at Wednes-day's session of the Grand Army encamp-ment are still in the hands of the Committee on Resolutions. The committee spent the greater part of the day on these resolu-tions, all the other business being thrust aside or left to sub-committees to handle aside or left to sub-committees to handle, pending an agreement on the issues raised by Mr. Vandervoort. It has been finally decided to bring in two reports this morning. The majority report will recommend shelving the resolutions on the ground of expediency, and deprecate any action by the Grand Army that would give its enemies a chance to say that the organization had a partisan bias or was being used for political purposes. The minority report will favor the indorsement of the resolutions as they stand, the minority members holding that the Grand Army should go on record as condemning President Cleveland's action.

The encampment met promptly at 9 o'clock a m. yesterday. The report of the Committee on Pensions relates to their cfforts to procure liberal legislation from Congress and the fate of the Dependent Pension bill. The committee were at Washington during the debates in Congress over the bill. It was far from what they wanted, but it at least would have removed 12,000 veterans from public papper-houses. They call attention to the Mexican Pension bill, far more liberal than the one for pensioning the soldiers than the one for pension bill, far more liberal than the one for pensioning the soldiers against the rebellion. This bill met the approval of the President, and they were fairly stunned when from the same hand came a veto of the measure of like principle, but infinitesmal in degree, for the veterars of the war against treason. They appealed to the Grand Army of the Republic, and the response came from 300,000 members in no uncertain tones. The committee, therefore, prepared a new Pension bill. This bill makes provision for pensions to all veterans who are or may hereafter become unable to earn their own livelihood; for a direct continuance of pensions for widows in their own right; for an increase of the present pittance to minor chilfor widows in their own right; for an increase of the present pittance to minor children; and for fathers or mothers from any date of dependence. Such a law would at once remove fully 12,000 veterans from the public almshouses where they now rest, making them pensioners instead of paupers, provide pensions for fully as many more now dependent upon private charity, and put into the general jension laws for the first time the recognition of the principle that pensions may be granted to survivors of the late war without absolute proof of disability arising from the service, proof almost imarising from the service, proof almost im-possible to procure after the lapse of more possible to produce alter the tapes of increase than twenty years. The bill is similar in general principle to that vetoed, but the objectionable pauper clause is omitted, making this a disability and not a dependent

The committee recommend the same pension "for the widow of the representative volunteer soldier of the Union army—John A. Legan—as is paid to the widows of those typical regulars—Thomas, the rock of Chickanauga, and Hancock, always the suberb." A motion was made to postpone consideration of the report until the report of the Committee on Resolutions on the General | Pension bill should be received; but it was finally voted down, and after a great deal of preliminary wrangling the report of the committee was adopted without debate.

The Committee on the Annual Address of 13, believing as they do that it is entirely improper and contrary to the rules of the order for posts to express themselves by the order for posts to express themselves by official action at the request of persons outside of the Grand Army of the Republic upon any subject or question unless officially authorized or requested so to do through the regular official channels of the organization. L. The Committee on Resolutions reported back a large number of resolutions, mostly pertaining to the routine work of the order. Among them was a resolution in regard to polygamy in Utah. The resolution denounces Mormonism in vigorous longuage, describing it among other things as a form of treason to the Union, and then went on to put the Grand Army unequivocally on record as its strenuous opponent. The committee reported adversely on the ground that the matter was foreign to the purposes of the Grand Army and political in its nature, and the report caused considerable of the part of the part of the purposes of the Grand Army and political in its nature, and the report caused considerable of the considerable of the considerable of the part of the purposes of the Grand Army and political in its nature, and the report caused considerable of the con in its nature, and the report caused considerable discussion. The visitors were escorted to this city by Ransom Post, of St Louis, and the California band of Los Angeles, and accompanied by Governor Ru-k, of Wisconsin, and his staff. After dinner the Grand Army of the Republic and distinguished visitors and citizens took up their line of march to Oak Ridge Cemetery, Mayor Cheso Hay welcomed the visitors on behalf of the city, and Senator Culion extended cordial greeting on behalf of the Lincoln Menument Association and the State of Illinois Governor Ruck and the State of Illinois. Governor Rusk responded for the veterans in a brief but feeling speech. Attorney-General Estubrook and Secretary of State Timme, of Wisconsin, also spoke briefly. After the speech-making the visitors passed before the vault holding the ashes of the martyred President. The party returned to St. Louis in the evening.

the Australian steamer, which arrived yesterday, brings details of a most revolt-ing tragedy, that occurred in New South Wales, August 28. Wodham Wyndham, Wales, August 28. Wodham wyndnam, a man of excellent standing, becoming suddenly attacked by religious frenzy, murdered his wife and three children, all of whom he loved most dearly. In explanation he said he feit called upon by God to commit the deed. The resurrection was near and their time had come. As tion was near and their time had come. As Wyndham's wife offered resistance, he took her out of doors and 'with a stone broke in her skull. He then took a carving knife and fork and thrust them into her side. He also pierced her hands and feet, explain-ing afterwards that he intended to crucify her as Christ was crucified. His favorite daughter had four cuts on here forehead and the right side of the skull was beaten and the right side of the skull was beaten into a pulp. She had two pierced marks on her breast, two on each foot and two on each hand. The marks appear to have been made with a fork. The left side of the skull of his son was battered, his left side skull of his son was battered, his left side was pierced in two places, as were also his hands and feet. The other son seems to have been killed direct by a cruel fork thrust entirely 'hrough the left side of the body. The hands and feet of all were pierced, as it was Wyndham's intention to nail the bodies to a cross, they refusing to be thus nailed while alive.

Blood." but They Did Neither.

New York, Oct. 2.—For weeks the Anarchists have been preparing for a dimentation in favor of the seven condered men at Chicago. No place suitable for purpose could be obtained in the city, and finally the great skating rink at Unioh Hill, N. J., iwas hired. The streets of Union Hill this atternoon were thronged with bearded and strange looking men. This morning, however, the members of the Union Hill common council decided that the proposed meeting was treasonable in its intents, and that it should not be held. The result was that there were fully one hundred and fifty uniformed officers present when the Anarchits arrived. Precisely at one o'clock the police marched to the rink and took charge of the door, the key of which they had previously secured from the proprietor. The crowd surged about the entrance and sought to force their way in, but the police used their clubs vigorously and beat them back. Finally a number of the more hot-headed of the Anarchists raised a cry; "Enter the hall or wade through blood!" and they made a grand rush. The police knocked several of the foremost down. and they made a grand rush. What Ohio Senators and a Number Congressmen Think of the Proposition.

Tolepo, O., Sept. 29.-The Blade this evening publishes opinions from several Ohio Congressmen, and from Senators Sherman and Payne on the proposed ship canal from Lake Erie to the Ohio river. Senator Sherman says: "In reply to your circular of August 23. I have to a swer that I doubt the expediency of building a canal on the route proposed from Cin cinnati to Lake Erie. If recommended, however, by the United States Engineers, and it can be shown that it is a work of practical utility, likely to produce the effects suggested, I will vote for it, but my impressions are against its expedi-Senator Payne says: "In reply to the questions propounded in your letter of the 28th ult., I have to say that the project of a ship canal from Lake Erie to the Ohio river has not been considered by me, and therefore I am not pre pared to answer, further than to say that I would favor a reasonable appr priation for a preliminary survey." utterworth says: "I wish to say that I have not considered the practicability of constructing a commercial highway of the character you mention between the lake and the Ohio river, and would not pass an opinion without further investigation than have been able to give the subject. Whether I would vote an appropriation would depend, of course, upon the feasiand desirability of the work proposed. If such work is practicable it would, of course, be of great advantage to Ohio, and, in fact, to our whole country. Congressman S. S. Yoder, of Lima, suggets that the boards of trade and the chambers of commerce of Ohio cities hold a meeting at Toledo in the near future to determine upon some uniform plan of action. Congressman Boothman, of Bryan, favors the project, as do Congressmen Romeis, Crouse, E. B. Taylor, Charles E. Brown, Williams and Cooper. Beriah Wilkins says: "I would favor the survey of at least two routes from the Ohio to the lakes-one from Cincinnati to Toledo. via probably the Miami Canal, the other being via the Muskingum river, already owned by the Government, to Zanesville, thence by the Ohio Canal to the Cuyahoga river at Cleveland." James E. Campbell says: "Appendix K K to annual report of Chief Engineer, United States Army, for 1881, contains the preliminary sur veys and estimates for enlarging the Miami and Erie Canal. The total estimated cost (as there exhibited) would be $28,557,173.13. I would not favor another survey unless the former is inaccurate. In that event I would most heartily urge further surveys. Your second and third queries I answer affirmatively. I have always ardently desired to see a canal from Toledo to Cincinnati. investigated the subject with some care in the Forty-eighth Congress, but abandoned the project owing to enormous cost. As between the projected Hennepin canal and the proposed enlargement of the Miami and Erie, the advantages are all with the latter. If any concerted plan of action to improve the Miami and Erie is concocted you may be

BANK ROBBER SHOT.

Tasked Men Command the Cashier to Not Say a Word-He Says He Won't, but Makes No Promise for His Revolver. WILMINGTON, DEL., Sept. 30.—The Farmers' Bank, at New Castle, was entered at an early hour this morning by masked robbers. Their movements awoke the cashier, who seized his pistol and fired, wounding one of the intruders. His comons picked up the fallen man quickly carried him out of the panions front door, making their escape. The bank floor is marked with blood where he fell. The robbers got no booty, and left behind them a kit of burglar's tools, a wheelbarrow and a ladder. They are sup posed to have come and gone by way of a boat in the river near by. The burglars immediately on entering the building overpowered, bound and gagged Wm. J. Black, U. S. Consul at Nuremberg, who was home on leave of absence, and stopping with Cashier R. G. Cooper. pin's Ghost Blush. Austin, Tex., Sept. 30 .- A telegram recounts the most during stage robbery since the famous Pegly robberies of ten years. ago. Last night a man stopped the stage plying between San Anglio and Ballingter, on the Texas Pacific. There were five men and three ladies in the vehicle, from which he took nearly $2,000. He also took their watches, but afterward returned them. He then stood all the passengers in line, and over the head of each drew a large cap, completely hood-winking them. He them in line about two hours, or until the stage from Ballingter came in sight. This was a signal for him to order them into the coach and to cause the driver to hurriedly drive off. Then he turned his attonion to the Ballingter coach, in which were two gentlemen and ladies. He robbed them of all their money, rifled the mail sacks of both coaches, and it is believed got several hundred dollars from the registered packages.

Slow Speed Prevents a Disaster.

ROBINSON, ILL., Sept. 30 .- A dastardly attempt was made last night by unknown parties to wreck the excursion train on the Indiana and Illinois Southern railway, running between Palestine and New to accommodate passengers and from the Olney State Fair. There were four coaches loaded with passengers when the train left Newton all of whom, excepting about one hundred, were discharged when the train reached the station nere at 11 p. m. A little beyond the station two switches had been thrown open where there were embankments. The engine and two cars left the rails, but were still on the ties when the train was stopped, owing to the fact that it was running at a slow rate of

In Cholera's Grip.

ROME, Sept. 30 .- The cholera is still raging fiercely in Sicily and it is feared it will not be stamped out for some time to come. The town of Messina is suffering terribly. There are between two and three hundred fresh cases and about a hundred deaths every day. The Government has stopped the use of water from the wells for d ing purposes when it is in an unboiled state, and has caused machinery to be erected which supplies the poor population with large quantities of boiling and boiled water. In addition to this the poorer classes are all fed at public expense. as many as 13,000 people being supplied with wholesome food from public soup kitchens.

The Bomb-Throwers.

OTTAWA, ILL., Sept. 30 .- Lawyer Salmon this morning gave the order for a transcript of the record in the An-archist case, the purpose being to present it to the Supreme Court of the United States. Mr. Salmon has been here since yesterday. He says the placing of the order was caused by his desire to limit Clerk Taylor to ten days time in which to prepare the copy. The 15th of October was finally settled upon as the date when the record must be completed. Deputy Clerk Snow at once started to Chicago to engage the necessary number of type-writers to complete the work.

Prohibition Fails in Tennessee. Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 30.-Official and semi-official returns from fifty counties in the State, representing about 68 per cent. of the vote cast, show a majority of 9,988 against the Prohibition amendment. This ratio will give a majority against the amendment of about 15,000. The vote exceeds that cast at the last Gubernatorial election, when the Taylor brothers were candidates.

Victorious Volunteer. New York, Sept. 30.-The America's cup will remain here. The race over the outside course, which was postponed yester-day because of lack of wind, was sailed to-day, and the Volunteer won by 11 minutes 4814 seconds after allowing the Thistle seconds, or by 11 minutes 54% seconds actual time. The course was twenty miles to windward and return from the Scotland Lightship.

FASHION LETTER.

The Autumn Openings-New Toilets of Every Description, New Colors, New Combinations, New Millinery Devices and Many Novel Effects.

[Special New York Correspondence.] The grand autumn openings have taken place and a world of new fashions both for this and the coming season is revealed to the admiring and thoroughly satisfied feminine portion of society. New toilets of every description, new colors, new wraps, new combinations, hats, bonnets, laces and ribbons, crowd the shop windows on every side. There is no end to the povel effects brough out and the unique styles adopted by different houses, are a study in themselves. The cold weather materials of years old.

The Governor has appointed Hon. T. S.
Grundy, of Washington County, and Colonel A. W. Hamilton, of Mt. Sterling, soft to the touch, wide, fine, twilled, corded, striped, armured and plaited to show Scotch heather or cheviot effects in warm autumn tones. The colors are rich and decided, and as far removed from many of the faint, sickly tints of the summer part, as from the "green ery gallery" period of the asthetic cras very rich fabrics there appears to be an ep-

PROMENADE COSTUME, an entire skirt of plaid, in twilled wool or velvet. In striking contrast to all the splendor of color in the season's exhibit, there is also a heavy importation of subdued colors and combinations which present a degree of elegant arrangement that has never been excelled. Golden bronze, gray in many beau-tiful shades, mulberry, dahlia, novel, handsome dark tones in green, and many neutral and half shades are all exhibited in the latter list. Corded silks and moires both plain and striped, are used for entire dresses, and also in combination with plush and velvet. New basques and bodices are elaborately trimmed down the front this season, and every sort of fancy device is re-

One of the most stylish coats exhibited is one of dark, blue pilot cloth, turned back each side with revers of the same, the edges of these and the turn over collar and cuffs outlined with a single piping of gold or silver braid. The garniture is far richer than the showy and elaborate silver embroideries worn last spring. Polish coats of Roman red pilot cloth, and those of red and black striped Persian wool, made in tailor style, are worn over black skirts of every description. C. D. F.

-Some philanthropists always make us think of a story that is told of Frederick of Prussia. The King had a way of going around like a common mortal and holding brief conversations with his subjects which were pretty sure to terminate in some decidedly unpleasant remark by the monarch. One day he paused to speak to a Jew, but the wary Hebrew took to his heels. The King pursued, and after a brisk chase overtook the flying subject. "Why did you run away from me, rascal? "Because," frankly admitted the Hebrew, "I was afraid." "Fritz" hit him a tremendous whack with his cane. "Villain!" he roared, "I don't want to be feared; I want to be loved."-

-A citizen of Gainesville, Ga., whose pet cow suddenly showed symptoms of going dry, consulted a cow doctor, who lecided that she had the "hollow tail, and split the tail, inserted a quantity of salt and terpentine, and bound it up. Going out the next day to see how the cow was getting along, her owner caught a half-grown pig, which he kept in the same lot, busity engaged in sucking the cow, and this accounted for the falling off of milk. He at once tool the bandage off of the unfortunate cow's tail.

- William Allen, of San Francisco, boy, shot and wounded a large hawk that was soaring away with a weazel in its talons. After it fell he hurried to pluck off its large feathers, when the bird suddenly threw its wings about his body and sank its beak feroflously into his cheek while both arms were pinioned. Finally he released one long enough to take out a small pen-knife, with which he stabbed the nawk. The stabs had but little effect.
